New Student Cards Appear Today

Old Passes Discarded Promptly At Five O'clock

ALPHABETICAL ISSUE OF DUCATS STARTS AT 8:00 IN STUDENT UNION

Today marks the appearance of the new photography attached student body cards to be issued alphabetically from 8 to 5 in the Student Union, declares Card Chairman Steve Hosa.

The new cards will replace the familiar one obtained from the registration booklet which becomes null and void today at the five o'clock deadline.

"Those who do not get their cards today will lose privileges including those of the library, health office, and admission to athletic events," Hosa warned.

Students receiving cards will enter at the main entrance of the Student Union where cards will be issued according to the following time schedule:

8:00 to 9:00—H, I, J.
9:00 to 10:00—P, Q, R.
10:00 to 11:00—E, F, G.
11:00 to 12:00—M, N, O.
1:00 to 2:00—K, L, Mc.
2:00 to 3:00—B, C, D.
3:00 to 4:00—S, T.
4:00 to 5:00—U, V, W, X, Y, Z, A.

A last chance will be given tomorrow to students who have not had their pictures taken. These will be taken from 9 to 12 in the

Hawaiian Drink Served At 'Haole Hula Hop'

Sparkling "ona ko poa", a drink of tropical Hawaii, will be a featured refreshment at the freshman "Haole Hula Hop" Saturday night in the Men's gym, Dance Chairman Bob Nerell announces.

Atmosphere will be created by decorations imported from the Hawaiian Islands.

Two leis to each couple attending the dance will be distributed at the door, Nerell states, and entertainment will be provided during the evening.

Reigning over the affair will be a queen and her two attendants. Candidates for the honors, June Rose Hill, Marge Alton, and Ann Wilson, were chosen by a student body vote. Announcement of the winner will be made on the night of the dance.

Bids at 75 cents a couple are on sale now.

Players Present 'Fancy Free' Thursday Noon

Members of the San Jose Players will present a free performance of Houghton's comedy of sophistication, "Fancy Free" Thursday at 12:00 in the Little Theater, announces Hugh W. Gillis, Speech department head.

Dorothy Leverenz, who, to quote Mr. Gillis, "one of the few amateurs he has met with a professional brilliance in comedy interpretation", will play the lead, and will be supported by Paul Hobbs, Barbara Lee Bellah, and Louis Daniel.

Lorraine Callandar, who is a member of the play directing class, will direct. This is the second presentation of the one-act comedy, having been given before the San Jose Women's Club last week.

Hanya Holm Adds Extra Dance To Program Here

Last-minute word received by Miss Marjorie Lucas indicates that Hanya Holm will present one number from her concert program in addition to the originally scheduled Dance Demonstration January 30 in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Miss Lucas states that probably the number used will be "Metropolitan Daily", which deals humorously with a newspaper office. In the dance Miss Holm and her dance group will depict such ideas as want ads, a foreign correspondent, and the sports page.

She announces further that outside organizations are ordering large blocks of tickets, and it is in the interest of the students that they buy their tickets as soon as possible.

Student tickets may be purchased for twenty-five cents at the booth in front of the Morris Dailey from 11:00 to 2:00 daily. They are also on sale from Orchestra members, in the Controller's office, and in the Women's gym.

RIVERA FRESCOES ON DISPLAY IN ART WING

A collection of Diego Rivera's frescoes will be on display in the Art wing all this week, according to Louis La Barbera, in charge of the exhibit.

Rivera is considered one of the best of Mexican artists. In his frescoes three plaster coats are used. The palette of a fresco painter is limited, consisting of earth colors, oxides of iron, and manganese.

COUNCIL VOTES SOCCER, GRID TEAMS SPECIAL AWARDS

Special awards for San Jose State college's championship football and soccer teams were voted in last night's student council meeting and approval was given regular varsity and service awards for fall quarter sports upon recommendation by the Athletic department.

Thirty-three players, three coaches, and two senior managers of the nation's highest scoring football team will receive blankets with the college insignia and the legend "nation's highest scoring team" printed thereon. Among players receiving awards will be Quarterback Dave Titchenal, injured in an automobile accident early in the season.

Nineteen gold soccer balls will be distributed to the team, coach, and manager of the championship soccer team for which bids will be called for immediately.

The student council officially proclaimed January 30, President Roosevelt's birthday, as the "March of Dimes Day" on the campus. Councilmen Steve Hosa, Doan Carmody, and Councilwoman Margaret McCarthy were appointed on a committee to work out a program for the day.

Along with the special awards, varsity and service awards will be given participants in football, soccer, and water polo, and five sports, heretofore unrecognized, will be officially recognized as college athletic activities and be eligible for

TICKETS FOR PLAY GO ON SALE

Tickets went on sale yesterday in the Controller's office for the San Jose Player presentation of "Once In A Lifetime", Kaufman-Hart farce on Hollywood life, in the Little Theater, February 1, 2 and 3, announces Hugh W. Gillis, Speech department head.

This production includes one of the largest casts to appear in a college show, according to Mr. Gillis. There are 64 separate parts, each with a character of its own, depicted in the easy-going and satirical Kaufman-Hart style.

The play moves swiftly, and the three broken-down vaudeville troupers, around whom the action centers, concern themselves with reforming movie diction. The resulting situations in which they find themselves should appeal to all play-goers, states Gillis.

Migrant Labor Subject Of Author's Talk

Carey McWilliams, author of "Factories in the Field", will speak at eight o'clock tonight in the Little Theater on the subject, "Migrant Labor—a Social Problem to Solve".

Sponsored by the College YW-YMCA, the program is open to the public free of charge, according to Mary Frances Hill, YWCA secretary.

Dr. William Poytress, head of the Social Science department, will be chairman of tonight's meeting. A question period will be conducted following the lecture, it was announced.

Mr. McWilliams is State Commissioner of Immigration and Housing. His "Factories in the Field" is an authoritative report on the conditions of migratory labor today in California.

College Tea Room Has Opening Today At Noon

The College Tea Room will open today at noon under the direction of the Tea Room Management class, according to Mrs. Sarah Dowdle, head of the cafeteria.

Celebrating its seventh year, the Tea Room will be open every Tuesday and Thursday for 35-cent luncheons to the faculty as well as students.

Mrs. Dowdle suggests students and faculty members who wish to sit at the same table to make reservations ahead of time, although there may be seats available. Reservations may be made for one day or for the entire quarter.

FIRST STUDENT MUSIC RECITAL TODAY

Presenting an hour-long program of violin, piano, and vocal music, the Music department will sponsor their first student recital of the quarter this morning at 11 o'clock in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

One of the outstanding numbers on the program, according to Miss Eleanor Joy, Music department secretary, will be the Bach "Concerto No. 3 in D Minor" for two violins played by Ellen Saunders and Margaret Hoare. This composition is one of the most difficult and best-known of all the Bach concerti for two violins, pointed out Miss Frances Robinson, violin instructor. Jean Crouch will be accompanist.

Conditions For Living Unfavorable, Group Says

FIVE RECOMMENDATIONS FOR IMPROVEMENT ARE MADE BY CHAIRMAN

By BILL RODRICK

Charging that many houses San Jose State college students live in are virtually fire traps, that in many, crowded conditions exist, and reporting inefficiency on the part of the college in inspecting and approving houses, findings of the Housing Survey Committee have been released for publication this week from the report of Board Chairman David Davidson.

Launched in the winter quarter of 1938 by the student council after a widespread demand that such a survey be conducted as an entering wedge to force improvement of college housing conditions, the survey was completed last quarter and was limited to houses on the approved list of the respective dean's offices, where above average conditions are believed to exist. Apartment houses were cut from this list, leaving only rooming and rooming-boarding houses.

FIVE-POINT PROGRAM

From the results of the survey, the committee drew up a five-point program which they recommended following, to at least partially alleviate present conditions as follows:

1. A survey should be conducted among students to find their reaction to their present residences and to find out whether anybody had any trouble in securing a room in which to live.
2. The committee recommends that there should be better cooperation by all parties concerned; that is, students, college authorities and landlords.
3. Certain definite standards per-

Contralto Karen Loft will sing "Zweignung" by Richard Strauss and "Mountains" by Rasbach. Miss Loft will be accompanied by Mrs. Adolph W. Otterstein, wife of the Music department head. Final selections on the vocal section of the program will be two baritone solos, "Fur Musik" by Franz and "You and I" by the English composer Leo Smith, sung by Harrill Johnson.

A violin obligato played by Jay Morris accompanied by Dorothy Currell will be the last string selection on the program.

This morning's concert will be the first in a series of concerts which the Music department will present at intervals of two weeks.

We Have Lost A Friend

Friday evening Dr. J. Ward Slattery died . . .

To students, faculty members and others who have been associated with him during his three-year stay at the college, the loss is a great one. His presence among us, though at sometimes taken for granted, was cemented in a bond by his helpfulness and his interest in the services he rendered the college and students.

Dr. Slattery's work among us could be termed the "run of the mill" service that might label a regular practitioner. His work with the football squad enabled many an injured football player to recover health quickly due to his constant watchfulness and knowledge of each player's condition.

Probably the service that is remembered by most was his work with students in the Health department. We won't say he saved any lives while at State because, frankly, we don't know. If someone is indebted to him in this regard, then we do know that he has been repaid more than once by a vote of silence thanks.

To the memory of Dr. Slattery; well-known and liked by all of us, non-assuming with a personality that befitted a gentleman and a doctor who was truly our friend.

Book Theft Remedy

With everyone from students to bookstores attempting to hit upon an effective method of stopping the stealing of textbooks, Mr. Marques Reitzel, head of the Art department, suggests a scheme which seems both practical and as near foolproof as one can arrive at.

The scheme which deserves more than passing consideration from those interested in formulating a plan to stop the practice of stealing textbooks, would be to glue attractively-designed strips of paper around the bottom portion of the books on both sides of the outside cover, and thereon write the student's name, address, class, etc.

Upon purchase of the book by the student, the bookstore, as Mr. Reitzel outlines his idea, would place the identification strip on the book. Students would then be required to sign the identification strip and upon selling the book would have to produce their student body card to have photograph and signature checked, and upon every resale, a new strip would be placed.

Cost of such a plan, should it be put into effect, would be small. Mr. Reitzel offers the services of the Art department in producing an attractive identification strip in college colors. Printing could be done here at the college by NYA workers or by the Industrial Arts department, should they be willing to cooperate.

The identification strips would be handled, of course, exclusively by the bookstores, and the only cost to the student would be possibly one or two cents should they have to be sold to pay paper costs. Certainly a cheap price to pay for the safety of expensive books.

The scheme seems to have few flaws of any importance. If thieves attempt to rub out the original owner's name to substitute another, the work could be easily detected. Naturally, it would require the cooperation of every purchaser of books, but it could be done without too much trouble, and this system seems by far the best scheme offered yet upon the subject.

—Rodrick

Thinking It Over . . .

By GARDNER WATERS

In a recent column Dr. MacQuarrie raised the question as to what should be done about future athletic programs here at San Jose State. So far the athletic program here has not been self-supporting and the question is whether it is worth the candle.

Fortunately San Jose State is not in the predicament that one nearby college found itself. A falling off in football gate receipts necessitated bankruptcy proceedings.

Dependent as it is upon the Legislature for its funds, the question here apparently is whether it is advisable for San Jose State college to pay out for its athletic program more than it takes in. As Dr. MacQuarrie points out, San Jose is not a one-team town and much of the support that otherwise would come to our teams goes instead to other nearby colleges.

But is not a successful football team an asset for San Jose State in that the Legislators upon whom we are dependent for funds will become increasingly aware of our place in the academic field? Football, of course, is hardly an academic affair, but this is one of those things where the individual is not apt to draw a fine distinction between success on the football field and success in the classroom.

Awareness of San Jose State as an athletic success increases the chances of awareness of San Jose State as an educational success. And that, we hope, will lead the California Legislators to be more receptive toward the financial needs of this institution. As pointed out in the President's column, what this college needs is more funds rather than more students.

With a tendency toward de-emphasizing intercollegiate athletics apparently growing stronger, it may not be necessary for San Jose State to expend large sums in order to maintain its standard in the realm of sport.

Our present status has been attained only by dint of much effort on the part of the administration and athletic officials. It would seem a shame for that effort now to go for naught.

While it might be said that intercollegiate sports are a customary but not a necessary factor in college life, it does seem that it is one thing which cements the bond between the student and his college. Furthermore, success in the field of sports will undoubtedly do much toward making the alumni more conscious of their college.

A building up of interest in San Jose State college in present and to-be alumni should do more, rather than less, toward favoring those influences which will induce a greater allotment of funds by the Legislature.

Newspapers Scored On Strike Coverage

By VANCE PERRY

The most important thing which came out of the Bridges talk last Friday night in the Civic Auditorium is the fact that the public didn't get what was behind the recent waterfront strike, in the opinion of both Dr. Poytress and Mr. Settles of the Social Science department.

Mr. Settles compared the dearth of publicity received by the labor meeting, at which 4000 were present, to the abundant review in the local papers of an education meeting which was attended by 25 persons.

"I can't help wondering if there isn't quite a bit to Bridges' claim that the newspapers weren't printing the truth of the San Francisco strike," said Settles.

However, both Dr. Poytress and Mr. Settles scored the inaccuracy of Bridges' blanket statement that the cost of living was lower in union towns than in non-union communities.

"It just isn't true that the cost of living is higher in southern California," maintained Dr. Poytress.

The idea of such meetings of the town hall type was commended by Dr. Poytress, but said further that people who should go don't go, meaning that the meeting was attended predominantly by pro-labor people, while those who disagreed with Bridges were far in the minority.

Certain fundamental economic fallacies expounded by Bridges were also scored by Dr. Poytress. In response to labor's demand for constantly increased wages, Dr. Poytress maintained that raising wages beyond certain limits certainly raises costs.

"When labor unions go beyond their economic level, as they have in the last few years, they cut into the accustomed profits of business, and business quits," he said.

The economic level was explained by Dr. Poytress as the point where the ratio of costs to prices allows business to continue.

"Wages today are higher than in 1929," he said, "yet there are six million men out of work."

SCANNING THE STACKS

By IRENE MELTON

"Students are sitting every place but on the ceiling!"

So discloses the periodical room librarian in describing the crowded conditions existing in the magazine room of the library.

Several times during the day there is such an overflow of students that the table reserved for "Magazines Received Today" is converted into a study desk, according to the librarian.

That Spartan co-eds are definitely clothes-conscious is seen in the extreme popularity of MAD, MOISELLE and VOGUE, the official Bureau of Standards for feminine foibles and fancies.

These two magazines are worked overtime on Saturdays and during leisure hours by smart Spartans, to quote the periodical librarian.

"Coming events cast their shadows before."

The library undoubtedly had this old adage in mind when it ordered the new CAMPING magazine, now obtainable in our periodical room.

Tantalizing campfire recipes, fascinating fishing scenes, and intriguing pictures of camp life are guaranteed to turn the coldest, blustery winter day into mild, sunny, outdoor weather.

Practical-minded, to say the least, are modern college students as seen by the frequent use of the vocational guidance pamphlets at the reference desk.

Booklets on how to prepare for that all-important search for a job, leaflets telling what it's like to be a teacher, and various other valuable folders are contained in this collection.

THRUST and PARRY

CONTRIBUTORS' COLUMN

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Since my arrival at this school I have been reading the Spartan Daily religiously and find it an excellent paper. However, I deplore the fact that every day there are notices reading—"Will the person seen taking my . . ." This is, I feel, a reflection on all of us and steps really should be taken, and drastic ones. I firmly believe that anyone low enough to steal from a fellow student deserves to be "kicked out" IMMEDIATELY. This threat might stop them!

Many of us take our Spartan Daily home and family and friends see it. What must they think? Hoping something may be done about this, I am

Indignantly yours,

Freshman Nine Opens Practice; Prospects Good

Potentially one of the strongest frosh teams in Spartlet history will greet Coach Larry Fiorini and his assistant, Jack Riordan, when the horsehide call to practice is issued the middle of this week.

FIORINI, RIORDAN

Fiorini, P. E. major from Turlock, takes over the reigns in place of Hovey McDonald, whose other faculty duties have forced him to give up the post. Riordan, captain of last year's varsity, will be assistant both to the frosh and varsity.

Fiorini will be well fortified with pitchers. Heading the list are Pete "Khaki" Felice, all-around athlete from San Jose high who has figured prominently on Bulldog P.A.L. championship teams, and Frank Abbe, a six-footer from Hollister. Other contenders are Jess Espinosa, Warren Ball, Frank Lucente, Bradley Earl, and Albert Yim, Hawaiian athlete, all fortified with prep experience.

FIRST BASE ROLL

On the contrary, first basemen are plentiful. Seeking the initial sack job are Ray Vidler, John Brown, Frank Butcher, Forrest Michaelis, Dale Nelson, Al Alviso, frosh football star, Bob Garnett, and Walter Woodside.

A fight for the second base spot is likely between Warren Sunseri, former San Jose high star, and a reputedly hard-hitting youngster from Klamath, Italo Barbieri. Cyril Taylor and Dick Casper will also be in the thick of the fight.

THIRD BASE OPEN

Pete Bruni, Dick Erwin, and Roy Crocker will match ability at shortstop. At present the only third baseman in the lot is Bill Zaro, who will stay there if he proves himself capable of handling the "hot spot". If not, one of the other infielders will be moved over, according to the coaches.

Plenty of outfielders are signed up to battle for three jobs. They are John Chiappi, Hugh Manley, Arthur Pimentel, Phil Nell, Gil Bennett, Henry Antagnoni, Ray Dalley, Mervin Cowan, Roy Deidrichson, Cliff Martinez, another

By CON LACY

With entries still pouring in for the Novice Boxing tournament Thursday and Friday, the heavyweight class looms as a battle royal with at least four outstanding men entered. Deadline for entries is tomorrow noon, with weigh-ins in the afternoon.

HAMIL HEAVY THREAT

Bob Hamil, 210-pound football tackle, is the newest heavyweight entrant. Other heavyweights are Walt Mazzone, Jim Cummings, and Heatwole, varsity basketball player. Mazzone is rather light, but rates the pre-tourney favorite because of his speed and vicious punching ability.

Eckert Hall, and the Spartan Knights rule as favorites for the team title, with Eckert Hall having a slight edge. The winning team will be awarded a trophy, and individual champions medals. Both the medals and the trophy are on display in the case in the gymnasium. An award will also be given for the best rooting section.

MINTER, GRID STAR, ENTERS

Interest in the 165-pound class has been aroused by the entry of Aubrey Minter, star safety man of the high-scoring football team. Minter is a rugged puncher and an outstanding varsity prospect. Minter expects to enter the all-college tourney if he is crowned champion Friday.

Outstanding prospect in the 155-pound class is southpaw Johnny Groves of Chuck Kerwin's Spartan Knight team. Groves is a tall rangy boxer with an exceptionally hard left hand. Coach Portal rates him as one of his greatest prospects in years.

San Jose high star, and Sal Tormina.

Roy Deidrichson, Pete Filice Tie For Cage Lead

By virtue of his 12 points against San Mateo Saturday night, Pete Filice, sensational pivot man of the frosh cage squad, sneaked into a tie for high scoring honors with Roy Deidrichson, former Mission high school scorer.

FIELD GOAL ACE

Figures released yesterday gave the two front line men 91 points apiece which have been amassed in the 13 frosh contests to date. Although the two casaba artists have the same point total Filice has caged the most field goals, 42, which is two more than Deidrichson has tallied.

The race for third honors finds Kaleh Borg, newly discovered forward, with a total of 60 points and Warren Sunseri, Borg's running mate at forward, who has made 59 points to date.

HELBUSH IN FIFTH

In fifth place is Bill Helbush, dependable defensive ace, who has 32 digits behind his name, while in sixth spot is Merryl Cowan with 29.

Taggart May Be Hurling Discovery

There's one youngster seeking a job on the varsity baseball pitching staff who may prove the best of the lot, according to campus judges of baseball flesh.

He is Irv Taggart, a gangling recruit from the frosh ranks, who pitched last year's yearlings to several victories of note.

Taggart has been hurling in San Jose sandlots during the summer and has picked up considerable experience to fortify himself for varsity efforts.

"Tag" is being tabbed as a comer, and will bear watching in the horsehide campaign which gets under way in earnest this week on the San Carlos turf, where it will continue until the re-vamped Spartan Field is put into shape for trotting spikes.

Hubbardmen Prep For Two Tilts

Face Nevada In Reno

Determined to get back into the win column after the disastrous trip south last week, Coach Bill Hubbard's varsity basketball squad resumed training last night for the University of Nevada tilts in Reno this week-end.

STILL A CHANCE

Although they are at a distinct disadvantage in the race for the California Collegiate Athletic Association cage crown, the local hoopsters could still capture the gonfalon if the "impossible" happened.

Thus, they will still be out to make up for their pair of defeats at Santa Barbara by completing the 1940 schedule undefeated.

SECOND HALF JINX

Although Coach Hubbard has not scheduled any practice games for this week, nightly workouts will be held. Hubbard is still seeking a method of combating the second half letdown that caused the Gaucho losses. In the initial contest the Spartans left the floor at halftime leading, 18 to 16, only to lose in the second period, 36-32. In Saturday night's tilt they were on the short end of a 14 to 11 halftime score.

To give away, two female hunting-dog pups, and (or) mother. If interested call Ballard 8765W.

Frosh Win, Lose Tilts Over Week-end

Coach Frank Carroll's frosh cage squad broke even in week-end clashes as they conquered Salinas junior college 43 to 38 Friday night and were recipients of a 63 to 47 thumping at the hands of San Mateo J.C. Saturday.

In the Salinas tilt, the local yearlings built up a 17 to 14 halftime lead to win handily. Roy Deidrichson, Pete Filice, and Kaleh Borg walked off with scoring honors by tallying eight, eight, and seven points respectively.

A rejuvenated San Mateo quintet proved superior on their home court to capture the win in a wide open affair. At the end of the first half the score favored the Bay City foes, 26 to 19. Pete Filice with 12 digits led Roy Deidrichson who caged 10.

Diving Worries Walker As Swimmers Come Through In Early Season Trials

JACK WINDSOR IS AERIAL ACE

And then Coach Charlie Walker has another thing to worry about, you see. Once he has a time trial and gets a fair idea on how his swimmers will turn out, he has to look down there at the deep end of the pool to see how his graceful Geraldts are doing.

Diving at San Jose State has been up and down, the trend usually being regulated by the degree of temperament of each successive spring board ace. These intermission members of every aquatic team have the reputation of being affected by the weather as much as a very sensitive case of rheumatism.

Looking over the roster of past Spartan aquatic acrobats one may readily see that the chances of a diver staying in school more than two seasons are almost nil. Not that these board hoppers aren't smart enough, on the contrary, an average of Bob Kinsley, Johnny DeSmet, and Monk Martin grades them around the B class. No these dive daffy guys sort of get the wanderlust and end up in Hawaii or China the season following their sensational springboard work.

Leading this year's list of divers is "Handsome Jack" Windsor who dove in 1938 but tried his luck at the breaststroke last year. On the barnstorming trip to Oregon last year Windsor again turned his attention to the high board and was hitting them so good at the conclusion of the trip that Charlie Walker has decided to keep him for this event.

Owen Collins who is probably better known as a two-year track captain and halfback on the grid-iron is really beginning to hit the tough ones and is probably only a step behind Windsor at the present time.

LAYOUTS FOR SECOND ROOS ADS DUE

Tomorrow is the last day to enter layouts for the second week's competition of the Ad-Writing contest sponsored by Roos Bros, local clothing store, announces Bart Maynard, editor of the Spartan Daily and one of the judges.

Theme of this week's competition is gabardine slacks for men and half and half sweaters for the women's division. Winners for last week's competition will be announced tomorrow, declares Maynard.

The contest, which is exclusive to San Jose State college students, will run for eight weeks, at which time each week's winners will compete for the final prizes which are: first prize, twenty dollars in merchandise; and second prize, ten dollars in merchandise. Identical awards are given in each of the two divisions.

About fifty entries were turned in for the first week's competition, according to Carlton Pederson, commerce instructor and one of the judges.

The winning women's ad will run tomorrow and the men's ad will be printed Friday in the Spartan Daily.

Size of the layouts is limited to 16 inches; either one column by 16 or two columns by eight.

CAA Re-rates State Graduate As Instructor

Fred O'Hanlon, who graduated from San Jose State college last year, has been re-rated as flight instructor by the Civil Aeronautics Authority, announces Mr. Frank Petersen, head of the Aviation department.

O'Hanlon has been hired to give flight training and will have charge of ten students flying in a J3 Taylor Cub, Petersen states.

In all, five instructors are employed for the training program. These include: Sumner Dodge, San Jose State college graduate who is chief pilot, Edward Hawkins, Norman Breeden, former manager of the San Jose Airport, and Earl Bradford.

Even Twentieth Century-Fox is interested in the Police School.

William A. Wiltberger, head of the Police School, received a letter from Frances E. Richardson, research director of Twentieth Century-Fox, recently, asking for information about the course offered by his department.

The letter requested data about laboratory courses, methods of procedure, and practical experience given the police students.

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR JUNIOR PROM

A complete list of committees has been named for the Junior Prom which will be held Saturday night, February 24, in the Civic auditorium from 9 to 1, according to Bob Swanson, general chairman of the affair.

Frank Laval is chairman of the bid committee. Bill Johnston, Ollie Upton, and Len Morton are in charge of advertising. Gay Van Perre, decoration chairman, has on her committee: Juanita Hadfield, Margaret Tren, Stella Knapp, and Vi Owen. She announces that all juniors interested in helping with decorations will be welcomed to all decoration committee meetings announced in the Spartan Daily. Eleanor Raney is publicity chairman.

Bob Swanson states also that the announcement of the orchestra chosen and further publicity will be withheld until after the Freshman Dance, so that there will be no conflicting information.

LIBRARY DISPLAYS MEXICAN ART

"Receding Frontiers" might well be the title of the Mexican displays in the library this week, for Larue Sorensen, formerly a student at San Jose State, penetrated into the wilds of Mexico to get the pictures and art objects on display there.

Mr. Sorensen's interest in photography and visual education work has led him into many primitive sections of the interior. His next trip will be devoted to sketching illustrations for a book he proposes to write.

Among the objects collected in San Juan Teotihuacan are Toltec heads, arrow and spearheads. Other interesting items in the exhibit are the pigs and straw dolls from Tonalteco, State of Jalisco and Santa Ana, Mexico.

Phi Mu Alpha Meets In Music Building

All members and pledges of Beta Eta chapter of Phi Mu Alpha, national honorary music fraternity, will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Music building for their last meeting before formal initiation and dinner Friday afternoon at 4:30.

Six neophytes are being taken into the organization, according to Vice-President Melvin Buffo. Tonight's meeting will be devoted to practice of the initiation ritual.

COUNCIL

Program Planned For Music Educators

Annual Marathon Swim Planned By Local Group

San Jose State college women students interested in entering the annual Marathon Swim at Santa Cruz sponsored by the Swim club later in the quarter are asked to contact President Ruby Freitas or Gail Tucker, club adviser, it was announced yesterday.

Women wishing to practice will have use of the pool from 12:00 to 4:00 each Friday, and by special arrangement will be allowed to swim with the Tuesday night P.E. major group.

Swim club activities for the winter quarter include competition in the National Intercollegiate Telegraphic Swimming meet in which the local entrants will vie in the 50 and 100-yard crawl, breast and rowing back strokes, the 75-yard medley swim, and the free style medley relay.

Any co-ed may come out for the annual meet, but should get permission from the Health department for the competitive swim.

Positive Reactors Report Today

All positive reactors to the tuberculin tests should come to the Health office beginning at 12:30 today, states Miss Margaret Twombly.

The next tuberculin tests will be given Monday, January 29, she announces.

Housing Survey

(Continued from Page One) taining to lavatory, heating, lighting, study, and fire protection facilities, and to the number of students to a room, should be established.

4. A permanent housing board should be set up to help in the placing of students in the houses and to help in seeing that the houses keep up to the required standards.

5. Steps should be taken to set up additional co-op houses, with stricter rules of conduct for the students, who, the report stated, have in some cases become slack in keeping the houses clean.

The report charged that one of the women's co-op houses "was the dirtiest house inspected, simply because the co-eds had become slack and did not cooperate with the house manager in keeping it clean." However, since the survey of that particular residence was made, conditions therein are reported to have improved considerably.

Note: This is the first in a series of three stories appearing this week on San Jose State college's housing situation taken from the findings of the Housing Survey Committee.

There will be a meeting of the Alpha Phi Omega tonight at the Hotel Sainte Claire, at 7:30.

Delta Upsilon meets Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the seminar.—S.K.

STATE SYMPHONY PLAYS FOR UCLA, TEACHER'S CONVENTION IN SOUTH

A program is now in preparation for the college symphony orchestra's contribution to the Music Educators' National Conference set for the first week in April. Adolph W. Otterstein, head of the Music department, announced yesterday.

San Jose State college's is the only instrumental group in California which has been invited to participate, according to Mr. Otterstein. About 6000 music instructors from schools and colleges throughout the country are expected to attend. The group has also received an invitation from Leroy Allen, head of the Music department at the University of California at Los Angeles, to play there during their stay in Los Angeles.

First Winter Quarter CSTA Meet Thursday

The first meeting of the California State Teachers Association for the quarter is set for Thursday at 12:30 in Room 155.

New opportunities for the members such as writing for the Sierra Educational News will be explained. This is a state-wide movement which endeavors to give our student teachers an opportunity to express their opinions to the teaching profession of California.

The matter of having plans for the club will be taken up at the meeting and a sketch will be shown for the students to vote upon.

Seniors, Faculty Warned On Photos

Seniors and faculty members must make appointments for La Torre pictures immediately at Bushnell's Studio, 34 North First street, Alberta Gross, assistant editor, warned today.

Failure to make appointments and have photos taken automatically results in the students' La Torre space being forfeited, Miss Gross further stated.

NOTICE

Alpha Gamma Nu, advertising fraternity, will meet at the Hotel Sainte Claire tonight at 7:30. Guest speaker will be Mr. Stacey, advertising manager of the San Jose News. Please be prompt.
